

apo-

in carotenoid nomenclature

An unitalicized prefix, preceded by a locant, used to indicate that all of the molecule beyond the carbon atom corresponding to that locant has been replaced by hydrogen atoms.

Source:

White Book, p. 230