

multivariate statistics

Multivariate statistics is a set of statistical tools to analyze data (e.g., chemical and biological) matrices using regression and/or pattern recognition techniques.

Source:

PAC, 1997, 69, 1137 (Glossary of terms used in computational drug design (IUPAC Recommendations 1997)) on page 1148