

saturated solution

A solution which has the same concentration of a solute as one that is in equilibrium with undissolved solute at specified values of the temperature and pressure.

Source:

Orange Book, p. 83