

single-focusing mass spectrometer

An instrument in which an ion beam with a given value of mass/charge is brought to a focus although the initial directions of the ions diverge.

Source:

PAC, 1991, 63, 1541 (Recommendations for nomenclature and symbolism for mass spectroscopy (including an appendix of terms used in vacuum technology). (Recommendations 1991)) on page 1546

Orange Book, p. 201