

suppressor

A substance which reduces emission, absorption, or light scattering by an interferent, thus removing or lowering spectral interference.

Source:

Orange Book, p. 172